parent's bedroom, guest bedroom, staircase area etc. First floor includes master bedroom and kids room with attached dressing and bath space, Home theatre with terrace area etc.

We have collaborated with many Indian product designers, textile designers and artists for this project to increase the aesthetic values of the house.

Now talking about interiors the language is modern contemporary and minimalistic. The explicit requirements were there too, spaciousness, crispness, natural light. The look needed to be upbeat and timeless, yet refreshingly modernistic. Considering minimalism as our design philosophy, our design approach was to play with the emptiness.

SWAPN BUNGALOW

"SWAPN" Bungalow was designed for a renowned businessman running a tile and sanitary ware business with a family of 5.

The project is built on a 8,400 sq.ft. plot size with 8,826 sq.ft. built -up area located in Vadodara, Gujarat.

This project started with a simple thought to work according to the contextual location of the site. As the adjoining plot is a beautiful and huge landscape so we thought to try to place all the public spaces facing towards that side and placed landscaping area of this house also, so the family can enjoy and rejuvenate the nature from all corners. We always think about the interior spaces before we think for the exterior part of it. Interior spaces should breathe and filled with natural light & energy. The front facade of the house sculpted out by the play of maximum number of vertical horizons. The architecture of this house strongly portrays modern contemporary aesthetics. A strong thematic continuity underlies its expressions along with the variations in each space that brings about enriched diversity in experiential qualities.

The organization of the various functions of the home takes into account a deliberate segregation of public and private space. Ground floor includes formal living, family living, wet & dry kitchen, dining area, pooja room,
